

Beacon Fine Arts Supports Fisher House

Beacon Fine Arts in Red Bank, NJ, was the setting for an exhibition of Steve Alpert's oil paintings, with all proceeds benefiting the Fisher House Foundation. Almost $30,000 was raised for the non-profit organization that enables families of injured troops to be close to them during their hospitalization. Military personnel and politicians, among others attended the exhibition entitled, "Through their Eyes," referring to the troops in combat. Phone the gallery at (732) 936-0888 and for more on Alpert's work, visit his website at: www.stevealpertart.com.

Dave Griswold, left, owner of Beacon Fine Arts Gallery, with Steve Alpert, whose painting "Mission" is shown.